Message from the Founder/CEO

Success is what we strive to gear everyone for when employed at DME. My Wish is that everyone is successful and has a great experience with the Company. We wanted to have a comprehensive yet simple handbook. You will see the words “common sense” used throughout the handbook. No employee handbook can cover all situations so always use good common sense.

Lastly, we are about people and relationships. Treat others as you would like to be treated. Use the “golden rule.” We can all win if we treat our teammates, colleagues, patients and clients with respect, dignity, kindness, honesty and care.

Remember, “it’s always a great day a DME!”

Donald L. Mooney
Founder/CEO

The Company reserves the right to modify the provisions of this handbook at any time.

The handbook is designed to serve as a general guide to help you become acquainted with NES' practices, standards, policies, and expectations as a Healthcare Professional. The Company reserves the right to amend, modify, withdraw, or implement policies at any time. Receipt of this handbook in no manner constitutes a contract or guarantee of employment. After reading all sections of the Handbook that follow, sign, and return the included Handbook Acknowledgment Form to NES.

Mission

Provide human capital resources and customize workforce solutions. We provide these services to commercial businesses, the government, and Department of Defense. DME is a leader in the staffing industry, establishing a business model that leverages customer service and long-lasting business relationships.

Act with Integrity and Honesty

NES expects all employees to act with integrity and honesty in all matters related to Company business. Employees may not obtain or use any property or services of the Company/facility, fellow employees, patients, customers, visitors or vendors in a manner other than that authorized by Company policy or by federal, state or local laws.

Employee Behavior

Employees must perform their assigned duties to the best of their ability and in the best interest of fellow employees, customers, patients, visitors and vendors. Employees must not take action that creates a risk, harm or damage to themselves, another person, Company/facility property, or others.

Employees must adhere to and fully comply with all Company policies and procedures, which can be found in the Code or obtained by request to the Human Resources Department.

Employees must be conscious of the fact that they can be agents of the Company/facility, and as such, their actions may be attributed to the Company/facility under certain circumstances even while off duty. Therefore, they should avoid situations that place the Company/facility at risk or call their professionalism into question.

HIPPA Privacy Rule

HealthCare Professionals must understand that as an employee of NES and a worker at the facility in which they are placed, it is the responsibility of the NES employee to protect the confidentiality of patients' medical information. Failure to maintain patient confidentiality may lead to disciplinary actions, up to and including termination. By signing the handbook acknowledgement, employees have read and understand the above policy and will comply.

Conflicts of Interest

HealthCare Professionals must avoid any relationship or activity that might impair, or even appear to impair, our ability to make objective and fair decisions when performing our jobs. At times, HealthCare Professionals may be faced with situations where the business actions taken on behalf of NES may conflict with our own personal or family interests. HealthCare Professionals owe a duty to NES to advance its legitimate interests when the opportunity to do so arises. HealthCare Professionals must never use NES property or information for personal gain or personally take for ourselves any opportunity that is discovered through our position with NES.

Here are some other ways in which conflicts of interest could arise:

1. Being employed (you or a close family member) by, or acting as a consultant to, a competitor or potential competitor, supplier or contractor, regardless of the nature of the employment, while you are employed with NES.
2. Hiring or supervising family members or closely related persons.
3. Serving as a board member for an outside commercial company or organization.
4. Owning or having a substantial interest in a competitor, supplier or contractor.
5. Having a personal interest, financial interest or potential gain in any NES transaction.
6. Placing company business with a firm owned or controlled by a NES employee or his or her family.
7. Accepting gifts, discounts, favors or services, of substantial value, from a customer/potential customer, competitor or supplier, unless equally available to all NES employees.

Determining whether a conflict of interest exists is not always easy to do. Employees with a conflict-of-interest question should seek advice from management. Before engaging in any activity, transaction or relationship that might give rise to a conflict of interest, employees must seek review from their managers or the HR Department.

Gifts, Gratuities and Business Courtesies

NES is committed to competing solely on a merit of our products and services. HealthCare Professionals should avoid any actions that create a perception that favorable treatment of outside entities by NES was sought, received, or given in exchange for personal business courtesies of substantial value. Business courtesies include gifts, gratuities, meals, refreshments, entertainment or other benefits from persons or companies with whom NES does or may do business. HealthCare Professionals will neither give nor accept business courtesies that constitute, or could reasonably be perceived as constituting, unfair business inducements that would violate law, regulation or policies of NES or customers, or would cause embarrassment or reflect negatively on NES' reputation.

Employment Policies

At-Will Employment

The State of Texas is an “at-will” employment state, which means, except as otherwise provided by law and absent any express contractual provisions to the contrary, employers and employees are free to end the employment relationship at any time for any reason. This employee handbook does not alter that at-will relationship, nor does it constitute a contract for employment between the Company, its subsidiaries, and its employees. Employees of the Company, either employee or the Company are at all times employed at-will; in other words, either the employee or the Company may terminate the relationship at any time with or without notice, and without reason or cause. Your employment is for an indefinite period, and you cannot be guaranteed continued employment or any set number of hours of work. No alterations to the nature of the at-will employment arrangement can be made except by the CEO in writing bearing the CEO's signature.

Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action

NES is an equal employment opportunity employer. Qualified applicants will be considered for vacancies without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin/citizenship/ancestry, age, disability, covered veteran status, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, or any other protected class status.

Equal employment opportunity applies to all programs administered by NES, including all employment decisions, such as those affecting hiring, promotion, demotion, or transfer; compensation and benefits; and reduction in force and termination as required by law.

NES assigns a high priority to the implementation of its equal employment opportunity policy and to assure compliance with all laws prohibiting discrimination in employment programs. Employees of NES are encouraged to contact the NES Travel Division Director or a Human Resources Representative regarding any questions or concerns about these matters.

Americans with Disabilities Act

NES does not discriminate against individuals with disabilities. The Company is committed to providing employees with the appropriate resources to aide and support them while at the work site. If you are an individual with a disability and you require a reasonable accommodation to perform the essential functions of your job, contact the NES Human Resources Department. The Human Resources Department will work with you to determine how best to accommodate your disability.

Proof of Eligibility to Work as Required by Law

NES is committed to employing only individuals who are authorized to work in the United States. On or about your first day of work, but within three (3) days of your start date, you will be required to complete the Federal Form I-9 and provide documents establishing your identity and eligibility for employment in the United States of America. If needed, you will be required to provide an Authorized Representative to verify the documents. Failure to produce the necessary proof according to the applicable laws will result in the postponement of employment.

Diversity and Sensitivity

NES appreciates the diversity of our employees, HealthCare Professionals, Clients, and other business associates and expects that our HealthCare Professionals will do the same. This includes consideration of others feelings and sensitivity to their ethnicity, veteran status, age, religious beliefs, and any categories covered by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, or any other law protecting against discrimination.

Unlawful Discrimination or Harassment

NES is committed to maintaining a respectful workplace that includes a working environment free from all forms of unlawful discrimination and conduct that could be considered harassing, intimidating, coercive, bullying, or disruptive based on a protected characteristic. This policy specifically prohibits discrimination or harassment based on gender, race, color, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, military service, veteran status, marital status or any other protected by law. This policy also prohibits retaliation against HealthCare Professionals who engage in protected activity (i.e., opposition to prohibited discrimination, or making a complaint of discrimination or harassment) or any other protected characteristic. For purposes of this policy, NES' policy against discrimination and harassment applies to all work-related settings and activities, whether inside or outside the workplace, and includes client facilities/locations, business trips, and business-related social events. It prohibits harassment or discrimination by HealthCare Professionals and by non-NES partners (e.g., contractors, clients, client's employees, vendors, etc.). Furthermore, this policy prohibits the use of all types of forms of Company or client equipment to engage in any form of discrimination or harassment. NES reserves the right to identify and interpret actions that may be deemed in violation of this policy and take appropriate disciplinary action. NES will take appropriate and immediate action in response to complaints or knowledge of violations.

Sexual Harassment

The Company's policy against sexual harassment includes a prohibition against unwanted sexual advances, or requests for sexual favors, or other physical or verbal conduct of a sexual nature. Submission or rejection of such conduct that is used as a basis for employment decisions, any language that is intimidating, humiliating, or offensive in the workplace, or other verbal harassment, could help to create a hostile work environment. While it is not possible to list all circumstances that would violate the Company's policy against sexual harassment, the following are some examples: unwelcome sexual advances (either verbal or physical), whether they involve physical touching or not; request for sexual favors in exchange of actual or promised job benefits such as favorable reviews, salary increases, promotions, increased benefits, or continued employment; or coerced sexual acts.

Depending on the circumstances, the following conduct may also violate the Company's policy against sexual harassment:

- Use of sexual epithets, jokes, written or oral references to sexual conduct, gossip regarding one's sex life
- Sexually oriented comments about an individual's body or comments about an individual's sexual activity, deficiencies, or prowess
- Displaying sexually suggestive objects, pictures, cartoons
- Unwelcome leering, whistling, touching, deliberate brushing against the body in a suggestive manner.
- Sexual gestures, suggestive or insulting comments

Retaliation is Prohibited

NES expressly forbids retaliation against anyone who has reported harassment or discrimination or who has cooperated in the investigation of harassment complaints.

No hardship, loss, benefit, or penalty may be imposed on an employee in response to the employee:

- Filing a bona fide complaint of discrimination or harassment
- Appearing as a witness in the investigation of a complaint
- Serving as an investigator of a complaint

All reports will be taken seriously and kept in confidence and limited to those HealthCare Professionals who are directly affected, or those who have witnessed any behavior (verbal or physical), or incident related to the report. If you feel that you have been the subject of retaliation, you must contact the NES Human Resource Department immediately at (210) 566-9995.

Whistleblower Policy

NES encourages you to report improper activities in the workplace and will protect you from retaliation for making any such report in good faith. Your concerns will be handled confidentially and without retribution or reprisal by NES. You have the right to report, without suffering retaliation, any activity that you reasonably believe violates any state or federal law.; violates or amounts to noncompliance with state or federal rule or regulation; violates the Company's fiduciary responsibilities; or violates patients' rights or safety in a clinical setting.

It is your duty to comply with all applicable laws. You may refuse to participate in an activity that would result in the violations of any state or federal statutes or violations or noncompliance with any state or federal rule or regulations. If you suspect a violation, you are required to report the situation(s) to the NES Human Resource Department. You may also report information regarding possible unlawful activity to the appropriate government or law enforcement agency. HealthCare Professionals who believe they have been retaliated against for whistleblowing may file a complaint with the Human Resource or with the appropriate reporting agency.

Workplace Safety and Violence Prevention Policy

It is the policy of NES to prohibit any acts or threats of violence (verbal or physical) by any employee, former employee, patient, or individual in or about the Company's facilities while on duty, on or off the Company's premises, including remote worksites, at any time. Such actions will not be tolerated, and may lead to disciplinary action, up to immediate termination of employment. All threats of violence to corporate employees while on duty will be investigated. Threats of violence will include threats that are physical or verbal, or threats via text, email, mobile and work phone.

Employees have a duty to warn both their facility supervisor and the NES Travel Division Director if they are aware of or suspect any potential situation, incident, or ongoing workplace behavior involving other employees, former employees, patients, or individuals that may be physically threatening or violent in nature and endanger the safety of employees or other individuals on the premises of the Company/facility/remote worksite.

Reporting an incident of workplace violence or unsafe conditions does not reflect on the employee's ability to handle their job duties effectively. Maintaining vigilance and caring for the patient is the duty of the HealthCare Professional, although dealing with violent behavior from patients or receiving injuries is not. Employees should not fear reprisal for reporting instances of workplace violence.

All communication with the press, radio or television about a violent workplace incident or hostile threat related to NES, its subsidiaries, or employees will be addressed only by the CEO, or other duly authorized representative(s) selected by the CEO. Employees are prohibited from discussing any violent workplace incident or hostile threat involving NES business with any press, radio, television or other electronic or social media without the express authorization of the CEO.

NES is committed to the safety of every employee, if you have any concerns regarding your safety, contact your facility supervisor, the NES Travel Division Director, and the NES Human Resources Department. For clarification of this policy, contact the NES Human Resources Department.

Performance Evaluations

NES regularly requests feedback on their Clinical HealthCare Professionals from clients. Performance evaluations are performed within the first 90 days of hire date, and annually. NES considers requests for assignment extensions and continued Per Diem scheduling as positive client feedback and a positive Performance Evaluation. Client remarks and comments will be evaluated by NES and if deficiencies are noted, training and remediation may be made available to the Clinical HealthCare Professional. Trends of negative feedback will be discussed with the Travel Division Director.

Clinical Incidents & Sentinel Events

Clinical staff must recognize the importance of following effective procedures and are encouraged to speak up if something has compromised or might compromise patient safety and quality.

A Clinical Incident is any event or series of events that resulted in or had the potential to result in an adverse patient outcome. Examples of a clinical incident include but are not limited to omission of treatment, deviation from policy, medication errors, improper equipment usage, complications from a blood transfusion, patient fall, inaccurate clinical assessment, patient, or physician complaint. A sentinel event is an unexpected occurrence involving serious physical or psychological injury or death or the risk thereof. These events must be reported to the Travel Division Director within 24 hours of the occurrence. The hospital will conduct a Root Cause Analysis for all sentinel events, to identify the causes of the error. The Travel Division Director will work closely with any staff involved in an error, including supporting them through the difficult time, facilitate communication between the clinical staff and the customer about the event, and based on the root cause analysis, plan for improvement activities.

HealthCare Professionals are allowed an unpaid meal period of a minimum of 30 minutes as scheduled by your immediate supervisor at the client facility.

Excellent customer service is critical to NES' success. Accurate scheduling and scheduling adherence is essential to ensure the appropriate levels of staffing are available to meet our customer's needs. The Company's employees have the responsibility to be available to meet our customer's needs and adhere to their schedules. Adherence to one's schedule ensures that our customers have full coverage, thus providing an appropriate level of service to our customers and for our fellow employees.

- It is the employee's responsibility to contact NURSES Etc for further assignment after completion of each assignment. Failure to meet these expectations will be considered a voluntary resignation.

Employees are responsible for following the call-in procedures provided by their designated facility.

- Employees must communicate all absences via call or text; employees may NOT use email to communicate an absence.
- Employees must receive acknowledgment from their NES Travel Contact for the absence/tardy to be excused. Leaving a message on voicemail is not an acceptable method of notifying the department of an absence.

- If a shift is missed due to a doctor's appointment, or an illness related call in, you will need to provide a note from your doctor to NES for your personnel file. If you have an emergency that requires you to miss a shift, please notify their NES Travel Contact immediately so that we can document your absence.
- The Counseling and or Termination Form should be used to formally document and track all discussions relating to attendance issues. Once completed, forms are maintained in the employee's personnel file.

Be advised that depending on contractual agreements between NES and its clients excessive unscheduled absences on your part may result in a hardship penalty for which you would be financially responsible. To avoid these potential hardship penalties if you cancel a shift, it is your responsibility to inform your immediate supervisor at the client's facility when you are available later in the same week to try and make up the shift that you missed.
- Days off occurring during your contract must be submitted and approved by client in advance of your start date. To call-off, you may call NES at (737)–787–2835.

Shift cancellations by you and the client are monitored by NES.

Floating to another unit is only permitted if HealthCare Professional is qualified and skilled and the unit floated to is considered a lateral or step down from their current shift assignment. All HealthCare Professionals working in environments where they may float to a different unit must have a skills checklist and competency on file for the unit. Clinical HealthCare Professionals may decline requests to float if they are uncomfortable or unqualified and must contact notify NES Travel Division Director immediately 737-787-2835. Should HealthCare Professional decline to float to skilled unit and shift is either cancel or refusal to continue working shift HealthCare Professional will only be compensated for actual hours worked and approved by facility.
